

Second Performance Of 'Harvey' Tonight

Sophs To Throw Welcome Dance

The first dance of the year, the traditional Freshman Welcome Dance, will be held in the gym a week from Saturday.

The sophomore class, which annually sponsors this affair, has arranged to have the Dellonaires supply a full eleven piece orchestra plus a vocalist.

Tickets ($3.50 a couple) and table reservations are available in the cafeteria or from any member of the Sophomore Dance Committee.

This dance is given by the sophs to get the freshmen started in their college social life. It also begins the year's social life for the entire school.

Joe O'Hara, chairman of the Sophomore Dance Committee, says that his entire class is backing this affair in order to make it the best Freshman Welcome Dance ever held.

Careful planning, elaborate decorations and adequate seating arrangements should make this an enjoyable evening for freshmen and upper-classmen alike, according to committee members.

Dress will be informal.

A scene from "Harvey" is portrayed by (l. to r.) Ed Reese, Jim Molloy, Gordon Hasenie, Marge Kuhn and Harvey.

Eagle And Reese Star In Play

By JOHN TRENTLY

Last night after the opening performance of 'Harvey', a President's Reception was held for all Freshmen parents. At the reception Fr. Beatty and the faculty were introduced and refreshments were served. The parents were guests of the Mask and Rapier Society. 'Harvey', which will run through tomorrow night, is a comedy by Mary Chase, author of 'Bernadine'.

Heading off the cast is Jim Eagle in the role of Elwood Dowd. Dr. Sanderson is portrayed by Ed Reese and Marge Kuhn is cast as Veta. Those in supporting parts are Mary Jane Carroll, Audrey McNierney, Mary Britton, Ann Kennedy, James Molloy, Gordon Hasenie, Jerry Hamilton and John Trently.

'Harvey', which ran for about a year on Broadway, has as its major characters an alcoholic and his pal, a six-foot imaginary rabbit. The show really gets rolling when the alcoholic's family, attempting to place him in an institution, commit his sister instead.

New Subscription Rates Effective For Yearbook

New Subscription rates are in effect for the 1958 Evergreen Annual. The price will be $5.00 for those ordering books before Thanksgiving and $6.00 for those ordering after that date.

For those who are unable to pay the full amount at once, a time payment plan has been initiated. A one dollar down payment is required; the remainder can be paid by installments of two dollars each.

Subscriptions may be obtained from any of the following: George Nellies; Vince Cucina; Jack Kenny. Each class also has representatives who will take subscriptions.

The yearbook staff has announced that over 40% of the Freshman Class subscribed during Orientation. Subscription Manager Jack Kenny expressed confidence in a similar reception from the rest of the student body.

Beatty Forms New Advisory Group For Development Fund

The Loyola College Development Program is well under way. During the summer much was accomplished under our President, Very Reverend Vincent Beatty, and Pierce J. Flanigan Jr., the Program's General Chairman, to carry the campaign to local business concerns.

This organizing has resulted in the enlistment of over three hundred non-alumni friends of Loyola. They are now soliciting financial support for the College. They have been organized into three divisions which are headed respectively by Mr. Flanigan, Mr. William F. Hilgenberg, and Mr. Henry P. Irr and Mr. Arthur J. O'Brien.

The above divisions are in charge of soliciting from business firms and their executives. Another committee has been set up and is headed by J. Kenneth Hely. This committee will arrange solicitation among individual friends of the College.

A series of organizational meetings were held in July.

Father Beatty himself has formed an advisory group for development. The members are: Herschel H. Allen, Partner, J. E. Greiner Co.; Thomas B. Butler,

A. S. O. Guides Freshmen During Orientation Week

Freshman orientation was handled this year by the newly-formed Academy of Student Orientation (ASO).

Jerry Langan, president and founder of the ASO, notes that "For the first time in Loyola's history, every freshman has signed up to participate in at least one activity. This fact alone signifies the success of the new program."

Jerry attributes the results to three additions made in the program this year, in order to avert some of the drawbacks of previous years.

First, there was published and distributed by the ASO a Student Activities Handbook, which explained every activity on campus.

Second, with these handbooks the ASO distributed activity interest sheets which the freshmen filled out and returned to indicate their preference in activities.

Finally, attendance slips were collected during the orientation to prevent the wholesale cutting that

Dr. Gumnick Appointed Martin Professor Here

Dr. James Louis Gumnick has been appointed Martin Professor at Loyola College. The Martin Company, famous local aeronautical manufacturer, has provided this Professorship in Physics in conjunction with their school assistance program.

Dr. Gumnick, a native of Baltimore, attended Polytechnic Institute and was graduated with highest honors in Physics from Loyola College in 1953. While a student at Loyola, he was a member of Alpha Sigma Nu, The Jesuit Honor Society, and received the McTavish Gold Medal in Physics, founded by the late Miss Marie McTavish. The medal is awarded to the senior student who attains the highest average in all courses in Physics at Loyola. Dr. Gumnick recently completed his studies for his Ph.D. at University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Indiana.

Dr. Gumnick has worked for The Martin Company each summer since 1953 in electronics and aerodynamics. In 1955 he was associated with the Lacrosse Missile Project. Since 1955 he has been engaged in radar multipath problems with "The Martin Company".

This makes the second addition to Loyola's Physics faculty this year, thus furthering Loyola's curriculum in this science and its related engineering.

Dr. James L. Gumnick

New Director, President, Moderator In Glee Club

By JIM MOLLOY

The Loyola College Glee Club has a new appearance this year. During the summer there were changes in all three top positions.

At the resignation of Mr. Felice Iula, who leaves Loyola after more than seven years of brilliant work, an alumnus, Mr. Joseph F. McCall '51, was named to direct the organization. A Jesuit Scholastic, Mr. Clifford Brown replaces Fr. Logan as moderator.

The transfer of Al Fields to the Evening School, after serving as president for two years, has caused the succession of Vice-President Jim Forstner.

Mr. McCall formerly directed singing at Mt. St. Agnes and is still director of the a cappella choir at Southern High School. He plans an expanded program this year, with three spring concerts on the road at Emmitsburg, Arlington and Washington.

Mr. Iula, who is well-known among musicians throughout the U.S., will remain in Baltimore as musical director at Calvert Hall College.

The first public appearance of the group was the Mass of the Holy Ghost, where they performed the Missa Marialis by Ginder.

Daily Bulletin

Again this year, THE GREYHOUND Daily Bulletin is posted to acquaint the student body with the time and place of functions, whether religious, academic, activity or sports, that might be pertinent to them. It is the desire of THE GREYHOUND that the Daily Bulletin be the main source of information concerning any and all events that may pertain to school.

Any information for use in the Daily Bulletin should be placed in the letter slot on THE GREYHOUND Office door, Room D-17, not later than 4:00 p.m. of the day previous to publication.

1st Friday Change

Starting with the initial First Friday of the School year, a new schedule will be followed for Mass attendance.

Masses on First Friday October 4, will be at 8:55 a.m. and 12 noon. Those having classes at 8:00 a.m. or 9:00 a.m. on Friday morning may attend this mass. All classes at 9:00 a.m. on that day will be changed to 10:00 a.m.

All Catholic students must attend either of the two scheduled Masses.

Confessions will be heard in the Chapel approximately 30 minutes before each Mass.

Editorial

Well men! here we are again and the long awaited nine month rest has begun. A number of changes have taken place amongst our hallowed halls over the summer months; in fact this year has all the earmarks of a year of change.

One of the more note-worthy changes was the Academy of Student Orientation. Their work with the freshmen was just short of miraculous and THE Greyhound hopes that the Frosh feel contented, at least for the time being.

The majority of extra-curricular activities have cleaned house, so to speak, and have completely revamped their entire setups, with big plans for the future. All these will call for a great deal of time and effort on the part of the members which, as usual, will go unnoticed by the student body. This refers of course to the school spirit or lack thereof which is prevalent among the students. This would be an apt place to throw in a lot of trite phrases and sentences about how wonderful the student body has been in the past or at least what a great effort they have made. But let us not be hypocrites.

This could easily be the year for which Loyola has been searching a long time. With the long range plans of the administration and activities, Loyola needs only a change in attitude of the student body to make the 1957-58 year one to remember. But then again "apathy is so very easy" . . . Makes you wonder, doesn't it?

The Watchdog

WELCOME! — With the first issue of the newspaper in the new academic year here at Loyola, the old hounddog wishes to extend a warm welcome to the incoming Freshmen, and greet them as a new body of readers to the scratchings of this column which has been a feature in the Greyhound for over fifteen years. Yes, the old hound's ears are dragging low — but all the better to hear the rumblings all over the campus.

ITEM: Have you noticed the few extra inches which seem to have been gained over the summer around the middles of many of the cadet officers? Rumor has it that the officers are chosen for the width of their posteriors rather than the breadth of their foresight.

WHERE'S THE WHAT? . . . It has happened again this year! A certain group of Freshmen were asked if they had any idea where the College library was located. Among the sundry answers received from the pup-capped youngsters was this little dialogue:

"Do you know which building houses the library?" Freshmen: "Oh sure! It's on the third floor of the Joe Cerra building." The fame of our cook has reached the apex.

Did you hear about the Freshman who, in his enthusiasm to join clubs and other co-curricular activities, signed up for the football team much to the chagrin of Lefty Reitz?

A DECREE: A neatly typed notice was recently affixed to many of the classroom doors throughout the College, stating that the required suit coats may be removed because of the oppressive heat. Inside the classrooms (where most of the hot air originates) many of the teachers were summing up the rules of the college on the first day by making it clear that a "coat and tie are needed," and then they immediately repealed this ordinance in the next sentence.

This leads to the problem of how this notice from the Dean's office will be annulled.

Notes Concerning Four New Books

By T. X. MURN

Gaudeamus igitur! The new scholastic year is upon us. Chalk dust once again hovers unhealthily over the academic groves, resounding with the chop, chop, chop of the professorial axe. In another part of the forest this fall another noise (the shrill mating screams of the critics) is heard.

James Gould Cozzens, author of the widely-received novel "Guard of Honor", has written another one that has the literary world burning joss-sticks at his shrine from the sales-happy pages of 'Publishers Weekly' to the holy-of-holies of 'The New Yorker.' 'By Love Possessed' is, perhaps, say some of the critics, the Great American Novel. Its appeal is so Catholic that both shop girls, and scholars, wives and window-washers will want to read this book. From all indication, the critics' superlatives have not been employed in vain. The book, just released around Labor Day, has already sold out of the first printing. Cozzens even had his picture on 'Time', a statistic alone that must prove something.

Several other things of unusual interest have come out this fall. Evelyn Waugh's 'The Ordeal of Gilbert Pinfold' is a brilliantly terrifying little piece de resistance that will have you hearing strange voices in the night. Pinfold, a Catholic, an actor, and a man closely resembling Waugh himself, has a brief bout with hallucinations that will have you more on the edge of your seat than a good Agatha Christie. Jim Bishop's 'The Day Christ Died' (with imprimatur for Catholics) narrates the events of the Crucifixion in a crisp journalese.

THIS IS YOUR Student Council

By TED PANTALEO

(This column has materialized because two men, the President of the Student Council and the Editor of THE GREYHOUND, earnestly felt that there was a need for it. Designed primarily to present the highlights of each Student Council meeting, its purpose is simply to keep you informed as to the accomplishments.)

At the first meeting of the newly elected group (and incidentally the last meeting before the vacation began) Charles Fitzsimmons, Earl Logue and George Nellies were voted in as Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer, and Parliamentarian respectively. Various committees, concerned with such problems as student orientation, traffic, social activities and improvements, were formed and a chairman was appointed for each.

Undoubtedly the most important business brought up at the time was the introduction of a proposal for another activities hour. A letter requesting same was drafted and submitted to the Dean. This action resulted in the granting of a second free period each week for all students by the Administration. The new hour is on Fridays at ten o'clock.

During the summer several members and committees were busily engaged in council activities. The new President, Sal Marzullo, attended a three day convention for Student Government Presidents in New York City. Fitzsimmons, chairman of the Social Activities Committee, reported that the activities calendar is nearing completion. Under the able guidance of Vincent Cucina, the Traffic Committee was hard at work trying to find a solution to the parking problem.

Frosh Reactions To Orientation Display Youthful Enthusiasms

By ED BIRrane

With the coming of September and the opening of another school year, the campus was suddenly deluged with some 191 Freshmen. They arrived here on the 12th to be eased from the joys of high school life into their new surroundings by a process known as "Orientation".

This year, during the two day orientation period, the Academy of Student Orientation, a society founded last May by its president, Jerry Langan, held complete sway over all instruction.

Setting out to see just how the new Loyolans regarded their first contact with Evergreen, Greyhound reporters interviewed some 23 Frosh on the subject of the A. S. O.

As one can see from the reports, they have already formed some very definite views. (See, college men already!)

Robert Brooks, Calvert Hall: "It was simple and to the point. The A.S.O. is a very efficient organization."

James Young, Loyola High School: "I am struck by the friendliness of the upperclassmen."

Frank Schwartzman, Loyola High School: "I thought the student handbooks were very good, and the tours were wonderful."

Frank Wiczynski, Loyola High School: "The ASO is a good organization, but in general the procedure was too drawn out."

Jerry Balda, St. Charles College: "It was pretty good, better than going around on your own. I especially liked the student handbooks they gave us."

Tony Hughes, Mt. St. Joseph's: "I would like to meet the faculty other than at the reception at Cohn Hall."

Tom Himmelheber, Loyola High School: "It was very informative. I liked the attitude of the upperclassmen."

Six Evergreen Seniors Get A.S.N. Membership

Six members of the Senior Class were elected to Alpha Sigma Nu, the national Jesuit honor society, last spring. They are: Vince Cucina; Donald Dodson; Jack Cummings; Bill Ziegler; Jerry Frese; Jim Forstner.

ASN, founded in 1915, is the Jesuit equivalent of Phi Beta Kappa. Its purpose is to organize and honor outstanding students and graduates. The Loyola chapter, founded in October, 1942, also handles the Gorman Lecture Series held here in the spring.

This year's members follow the same pattern. All are on the Dean's List and all are well-known in activities. Cucina is delegate to the Student Council, Distinguished Military Student, Business Manager of the Evergreen Annual and a member of the Mask and Rapier Society. Dodson is past Prefect of the Sodality and is a delegate to the NFCCS. Varsity basketballer Cummings is President of the Athletic Association and is a distinguished military student. Ziegler, active in the Music Club, Evergreen Quarterly and IRC, is a member of LIT. Frese headed the Student Council's Social Committee last year. He is also active in LIT and the Evergreen Quarterly. Forstner is President of the Glee Club, Business Manager of THE GREYHOUND, Advertising Manager of the Evergreen Annual and a member of the IRC and the Chemistry and Physics Clubs.

Harvey Set To Cavort Tonight

Moderator of the Society again this year will be Father Scanlan. Bob Dunn, Class of '56, returns as Director. The new officers are as follows: Ed Reese, President; Vince Cucina, Vice-President; Jack Kenny, Secretary; Jerry Dyer, Treasurer.

The three-day show date, beginning the 26th, is the earliest ever attempted by the Dramatic Society. The date was made necessary by a new schedule which lists six presentations for the year. Last year four shows were presented. An early start was achieved for 'Harvey' through summer rehearsal dates.

The Society's schedule for this year is as follows: 'Harvey', 26th, 27th, 28th of September; 'Man Who Came To Dinner', early November; Loyola Nite, Thanksgiving Eve; 'Sleep of Prisoners', early December; One Act Play Festival, late February; 'Cocktail Party', late March; 'Shadow of a Gunman', late April.

Fr. Drane New Vice-President; Other Jesuit Positions Changed

The Rev. Joseph K. Drane has been appointed Academic Vice-President of Loyola College. The Vice-President, who also serves in the capacity of Director of Studies in the Colleges and Universities of the Jesuit Maryland Provinces, is not new to Loyola since he was once Dean of Studies here at Evergreen.

Among other changes in the positions of the Jesuit members of the faculty include Fr. Logan who is now Assistant to the President. The position of Dean of Men is being filled by Fr. Murphy. The Dean of Men's office is no longer in the basement of the library building but has been relocated in Room 100 in the Science Building.

In addition to his duties as Dean of Men, Fr. Murphy is also a member of the Classics Department.

Fr. Dougherty has been appointed Dean of the Evening School; Fr. Smardon replaces him as the Director of Admissions. The Registrar of the Evening School this year is Fr. Costello of the Mathematics Department.

Other Jesuit additions to the faculty include: Mr. Brown, Department of Economics; Mr. Cooney, Department of Physics; Fr. Galloway, Department of Theology; Fr. Scott, Department of Philosophy; Fr. Campbell, Department of History.

Replacing Fr. Gibbons as Librarian is Fr. Davish, former Dean of the Evening School. Fr. Gibbons is currently on leave for the purpose of graduate studies in the field of Economics.

A.S.O. Sponsors Frosh Orientation

This program was supervised by Jerry Langan, Tom Dwyer, and Tom Corcoran.

Joe O'Hara, sophomore class president and chairman of the Presentation Committee of the Student Council, directed the sale of pup caps and plans to enforce the tradition that they be worn on campus at all times until the freshmen beat the sophs in rugby.

The members of the student council's orientation committee, which co-ordinates the entire program, are O'Hara, chairman, Langan, and Joe Vinci.

Faculty House Completion, New Building Add Space

Through the construction completed on the Faculty House, this summer, along with the purchase of the Millbrook House, Loyola College has added new offices, classrooms, and laboratories.

The Faculty House has six new offices and another classroom, F3. Three offices are for Student Counselors, Fr. Conlin, Fr. Knott, and Fr. Scanlan. One office is for Fr. Campbell of the History Department and the other two are for the Departments of Theology and Philosophy.

Other offices and classrooms are in the Millbrook House, across from the athletic field. The English Department is on the third floor; the Modern Language Department, a seminar room, and one classroom are on the second floor; the Alumni Office, Public Relations Office, and the Development Office are on the first floor.

Two new laboratories, the Electrical Laboratory in the Science Building basement and the Engineering Physics Laboratory in the garage near the tennis courts, have also been added.

In addition to these changes, student activities offices have been placed in the Dell Building.

Development Drive Pushed Downtown

Healy, Industrialist; William F. Hilgenberg, President, Seaboard Fish Co.; William E. Lamble, President, Southern Packing Co., Inc.; Samuel M. Hecht, Chairman of the Board, The Hecht Co.; Hooper S. Miles, Chairman of the Board, Fidelity - Baltimore National Bank & Trust Co.; James V. Roughan, Vice President, Price Electric Corporation; Howard E. Simpson, President, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co.; Wilbur Van Sant, President, Van Sant Dugdale & Co., Inc.

The Development Office has produced a series of booklets which have been sent to all prospects. These are designed to tell what Loyola has done, is doing, and plans to do in the future.

Senior Note!

Any seniors who are interested in any of the fellowships, scholarships or assistantships available to graduates of Loyola College are requested to see Dr. Harry Kirwin sometime before October 5.

Dr. Kirwin will also be able to direct anyone unacquainted with the opportunities to the correct source of information.

Running With The Hounds

The Old and New

BY BOB FLEISHMAN, SPORTS EDITOR

Leftovers from last year . . .

After the "Greyhound" baseballers dropped the Mason-Dixon Conference diamond crown to Hampden-Sydney, Southern loop champions, last May, final averages were released too late for GREYHOUND publication. So here goes . . .

Bucky Foote, who'll be around for two more years, led the Hounds with a sparkling .387 mark at his shortstop post, plus leading in runs scored (25), hits (24), and stolen bases (12). Four others also belted .300 or more during the year, these being co-captains Harp Fitzgerald (.338) and Earl Hamper (.304); Jack Benzing, .315; and Don Deinlein, .333. Paul Dipino, first string backstop, just missed the charmed circle with .299 . . .

The pitching department was handled well by Jim Henneman and Gary Foreman. Lefty Jim, called one of the M-D top hurlers, posted a 6-1 record and had a brilliant 1.59 earned run average. He'll be back to bolster a staff which lost only a few by graduation . . .

Congratulations, although a little belated, are extended to Mickey McFadden, who was named to the Honorable Mention list of the 1957 All-American Team. He might have been up higher if Loyola had posted a better record (1-7-1). Looking forward to seeing him in North-South game next spring, and hope he does as good a job as Bobby Wintz did last year . . .

Three ex-City College athletes are among those entering Loyola this fall, and the hope is here that two will help win back championships lost last season and the other will strengthen a weak squad.

Don Torres compiled an outstanding record in tennis at City, and his play could bring Coach Vince Colimore's netters another crown. Chuck Pessagno, who won the Maryland Scholastic Association golf crown and just about every junior tournament held the past two years, helped the Collegians to an undefeated string spanning two seasons. He probably will help start a new one for the Hounds who saw their hold on the M-D reins loosen last year to Bridgewater. The third is Buck Parr, a wrestler, who went to the finals of the MSA tournament two years ago only to lose a heartbreaking decision. He can wrestle anywhere between 130 and 145 and still be effective. Might help improve Loyola grapplers record of a year ago.

More reports on athletes entering Loyola from other high schools will follow in later issues.

Nappy's Back!

Doherty, Former Hound, Returns As Reitz Aide

Ed "Nappy" Doherty, basketball great at Loyola College for four years, returned to the campus this fall as Assistant basketball coach and Director of Intramurals. Besides being "Lefty" Reitz' "right-hand man," Doherty will also coach the "B" basketball squad.

Nappy compiled an excellent record during his years at Evergreen, averaging 14.2 points per game. He climaxed an 1100 point total by acting as Co-captain of the 1952-53 team. The spring board for this achievement was a 352 point total amassed as a sophomore. This led the 1950-51 squad in total points, and his 13.0 average for the year was also tops.

He was twice named to the Mason-Dixon All-Conference team, but it was during the 1953 season when Nap reached his greatest potential. Teaming with Joel Littleman and Jerry Chadwick, Nap led the Greyhounds to the regular M-D championship, and then on to Kansas City to the NAIA tournament. The team went all the way to the semi-finals, only to lose to Mississippi Southern, the team who eventually won the tournament.

"Nappy" Doherty returns to Alma Mater to assume coaching duties.

... Gym Jottings ...

By JIM HENNEMAN

Since this time of the year is known as orientation time for the freshmen, we will join too with a little orientating of our own. What we wish to acquaint them with is the Athletic Department in general and the Athletic Director in particular.

Emil G. "Lefty" Reitz, a veteran of nineteen years at Loyola, is the gentleman of whom we speak. In his younger days "Lefty" was quite an athlete, having starred at Villanova in both basketball and baseball. After a brief fling in professional baseball, Mr. Reitz turned his talents to instructing poor ignorant college athletes, like yours truly. His task has undoubtedly been very trying, because lately he has become somewhat intellectual and now devotes his spare time indulging in the art of painting.

Before you get any ideas, let me forewarn you men of the pup caps — don't ever suggest that Mr. Reitz is a numbers painter. Whenever he hears those words, it does something to him — and the end result will not be beneficial to either of the parties. In all fairness to our esteemed A.D., his paintings are much better than some people will admit. One publicity-minded gent had the idea of having "Lefty" pose for pictures with "Betsy" of Baltimore zoo fame.

So let the incoming class of 1961 be forewarned, that artist Reitz is not to be joked about. If you should run into him with his easel, just quietly step out of the way and forget the wisecracks. You'll be a better man. End of Orientation!

Intramural Items

Intramural Football swings into another campaign soon. This year promises to be interesting, as the now Junior Ramblers will attempt to defend its championship. Last year it took only one long pass play for the Ramblers to be crowned as they won over the Bohs, another returning team, 6-0.

Six of the eight players named to the league's All-Star team last season will again see service. Hohn Hasselberger, Bucky Foote, Joe Hinkley, Fred Ruppel, Don Deinlein, and Mickey McFadden will all return to the gridiron.

Entries are still being accepted for the league. This will probably be the last call and freshmen are urged to participate.

Harrier Campaign To Open Against Randolph-Macon

Hoping the squad will take up where it left off last year, cross-country coach Bill McElroy has been priming his harriers for their opening meet on October 5, against Randolph-Macon.

"It's a little early to make predictions," emphasized McElroy, "but we should do as well as we did last year." The Hound hill-and-dalers wound up last season with five wins and a lone setback in Mason-Dixon competition.

7 Returnees

With seven veterans returning, the team appears well fortified for another strong season. Those coming back are Ken Billeb, John Burton, John Burns, Jerry Freese, Tom Gunning, Paul Sherman, and John Usowski. Billeb and Sherman were leading scorers last season with Burton and Freese usually close behind.

Hugh McKenna, track star, and Jim Vaeth, a senior out for the first time, will also try their hand at crosscountry this year. McKenna, a junior was a harrier in high school.

Freshman Turnout Good

A fine turnout of Freshmen includes Tom Dumphey, Tony Hughes, Ed Sacco, and Sonny Young. The latter, from Mt. St. Joe, is perhaps the most promising newcomer.

The league this year appears to be an improved one, according to McElroy. The toughest opposition the Hounds will have to face should be the Cardinals from Catholic University.
